

New Riegel woman arrested

A New Riegel woman was arrested on a drug charge Wednesday.

Amanda L. Jenkins, 29, was charged with possession of cocaine, a fifth-degree felony, and was in Seneca County Jail Wednesday night, according to a release from Seneca County Drug Task Force — METRICH Enforcement Unit.

The drug task force, Seneca County Sheriff's Office deputies and Fostoria Police Department officers executed a drug-related search warrant on Jenkins' vehicle at Buckley and Sandusky streets and it yielded cocaine and criminal tools, the release states.

Further charges were pending Wednesday night.

Originally published in the Advertiser Tribune on May 31, 2018.