

Narcotic search warrant leads to arrest in Bucyrus

On March 28, 2024, a meticulously coordinated operation involving the Crawford County Sheriff's Office, METRICH, and the Crawford County Special Response Team culminated in the execution of a successful narcotics search warrant at 117 Fisher St. in the City of Bucyrus.

The primary target of this operation was Gary Wayne Gallant, a 53-year-old individual suspected of trafficking in methamphetamines. Gallant was promptly apprehended during the search.

Additionally, Sandra Gallant, aged 60, was also detained on the premises. However, she was subsequently released pending potential charges in the future.

The authorities seized a substantial quantity of methamphetamines, along with drug paraphernalia, cash, and two firearms from the residence. Shockingly, one of the firearms was traced back to a stolen weapon from California.

Gary Wayne Gallant has been transported to the Crawford County Justice Center, where he awaits further legal proceedings.

The Crawford County Sheriff's Office is diligently preparing a comprehensive report to be submitted to the Crawford County Prosecutor's Office for the assessment of potential additional charges related to this operation

Gary Wayne Gallant has been transported to the Crawford County Justice Center, where he awaits further legal proceedings.

The Crawford County Sheriff's Office is diligently preparing a comprehensive report to be submitted to the Crawford County Prosecutor's Office for the assessment of potential additional charges related to this operation.

Originally published on the Crawford County Now Staff website on March 28, 2024.